Please join us for the

THIRD INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON PEDIATRIC RENOVASCULAR HYPERTENSION

November 2nd-4th, 2024
Durham, NC

Join us in Durham, NC—home of Duke University—for the Third International Symposium on Pediatric Renovascular Hypertension (pRVH). This symposium brings together affected families, advocacy groups, and world-renowned surgeons, nephrologists, cardiologists, and general pediatricians to advance the care of pRVH through scientific presentations, panel discussions, and collaborative working groups. Topics covered include best practices for patient care, patient and family advocacy, recent discoveries, and ongoing research.

November 2nd: Family Day

November 3rd: Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Day

November 4th: Scientific Day

You can view the full agenda and register for the event here:
